

1st
Violins
2nd
Violas
'Cellos
Basses

This image shows a musical score system for a string ensemble. It consists of four staves, each with five lines. The staves are labeled on the left as '1st', '2nd', 'Violas', and 'Basses'. The '1st' and '2nd' labels are positioned above the first two staves, while 'Violas' and 'Basses' are positioned above the last two staves. The word 'Violins' is centered between the first and second staves. The word ''Cellos' is positioned above the third staff. A thick vertical brace on the left side groups the four staves together. The top and bottom of the brace have small curved hooks.

This image shows a blank musical score system for a string ensemble, identical in layout to the one above. It consists of four staves, each with five lines. The staves are labeled on the left as '1st', '2nd', 'Violas', and 'Basses'. The word 'Violins' is centered between the first and second staves. The word ''Cellos' is positioned above the third staff. A thick vertical brace on the left side groups the four staves together. The top and bottom of the brace have small curved hooks.

